

FIRE PROTECTION SYSTEM BEING INSTALLED AT YARD

Pumps Will Be Operated By Electricity, Making It a Modern System.

IS BEING INSTALLED BY H. C.
RAEGAN OF THE D'OLIER EN-GINEERING CO. OF PHILADEL-PHIA—WORK COMMENCED YES-TERDAY AND WILL BE COM-PLETED IN THIRTY DAYS.

One of the most modern and probably one of the first fire protection systems of its kind in the south, is being installed at the Pensacola navy yard, which has practically been without fire protection since its establishment. Work was commenced yesterday morning by a force of men under the supervision of H. C. Reagan, of the D'Olier Engineering Co., of Philadelphia, who received the contract from the navy department for the work. It will be completed in about thirty days.

Operated Automatically.
The system is known as the automatic fire protection system, and the pumps are operated by electricity. It is so arranged that the moment a hydrant is opened the pumps start and a pressure almost equal to that of a steam fire engine is attained. By such an arrangement the navy yard will have a first-class fire protection system.

Another feature of the system will be the pumping station, which will be absolutely fire proof. It is to be constructed of steel and ferro-inclave, a material manufactured in Cleveland, which will be fastened to the structure steel and the remainder of the structure will be of concrete. Even the roof will be of this material.

Protects Warrington, Too.
This system will not only be installed within the navy yard walls, but also in Warrington and Woolsey, thus protecting residences there from fire. It will go as far as the powder magazine, and it is expected later that it will be run to the hospital and Fort Barrancas.

TWO ANNOUNCE FOR OFFICES

John C. Whiting and James O'Brien Are the First to Come Out.

In the announcement column this morning will be found the announcement of John Cary Whiting for the office of city tax collector, subject to the action of the Democratic primary.

Mr. Whiting has served the city for four years, or two terms, in this very responsible position, and his friends bank on him being returned for another term. He is courteous and polite and has won many friends during his tenure of office, and solicits the support of the voters upon his past record.

James O'Brien.
The city campaign opens today with Jack O'Brien as one of the first candidates to announce, the nomination which Mr. O'Brien desires being that for street superintendent. Mr. O'Brien has been working as foreman on the street force for the past six years and his work has always been of a highly creditable character. He is a candidate subject to the action of the white democratic primary and he has many friends who will be glad to support him.

third and carried them all down the ladder to the street.
The work of rescue was delayed by the falling of three firemen from the second and third floors when their scaling ladders slipped off the window sills. Firemen say the fire escape in the rear was clogged with refuse which had to be cleared off before they could mount.

The Travisano family evidently were trapped in their rooms on the top floor. The bodies of the parents were found lying on a couch while the son and daughter were kneeling on the floor with their faces in their mother's lap and seemed to have been suffocated while praying. The members of the Filiberti, Gruppi and Pla-cia families were found in their beds on the fifth floor where they were overcome by smoke while asleep.

The belief that the fire was the work of a group of blackmailers arose from the statement of a barber, who said he had received a black hand letter about two months ago, demanding the payment of about $200.

WILL MEET IN BIRMINGHAM.

Birmingham, Ala., March 3.—Announcement that the United States interstate commerce commission would meet in Birmingham March 10 was contained in a telegram received today from the commission, asking for reservation of the federal court room.
The commission has never met in Birmingham and its coming is a complete surprise. No intimation of the matters to be taken up has been received.

YESTERDAY'S TUBERCULOSIS CAMPAIGN

DR. CLARENCE HUTCHINSON AD-DRESSED GATHERING YESTER-DAY AFTERNOON, WHILE DR.
ANDERSON AND DR. RUTZAHN SPOKE AT LAST NIGHT'S SES-SION.

Undoubtedly the tuberculosis exhibition and the general campaign must be, beyond a doubt, a most worthy one, for who ever saw such beautiful weather favor an institution so continuously, in order, it would seem, to give everybody, man, woman and child, an opportunity to take advantage of the presence in the city of the exhibition. And they are certainly making the best of their chance. The exhibition again, as on Tuesday, was crowded all day long, listening and drinking in this education for the good of the body.

At eleven o'clock yesterday morning, the day's work started off with a whirl, to a big gathering of people, among whom were conspicuous quite a good many of the cigar makers of the city.

At one p. m., the hall was crowded with school children from school No.
2, one and all on the same errand of knowledge hunting.

At three o'clock, according to program, announced, the daughters of Isabella, and a large number of other people, occupied the attention of the management of the exhibition.

Dr. Hutchinson Spoke.
The four o'clock session was opened by Director Rutzahn, who immediately introduced Doctor Clarence Hutchinson, and the hall was packed to its doors to accommodate the crowd of expectant people.

The subject on which Dr. Hutchinson addressed the audience was "How to Cure Consumption" and the manner in which it was handled and the information imparted, was well worthy of ten times the crowd, could the hall have accommodated so large a number. Dr. Hutchinson said in part:

"If I had to choose my own subject, I would not have chosen 'How to Cure Consumption,' but would rather have chosen 'How to Prevent Consumption,' for we all know the old adage, 'An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure.'"

"Consumption is communicable; that is, it is catching. It is also curable, but first of all it can be prevented. It is a germ disease, and this germ can be handled, can be raised or killed the same as you raise or kill a chicken or bug. It enters our body, lives, moves and grows and reproduces just the same as bugs or any other kind of life. Dr. Hutchinson said again: 'I want to impress upon every member present that consumption is not hereditary. The fact that the mother or the father or both die with consumption, it does not necessarily follow that the child should have consumption. Of course, the tendency to contract consumption is greater in a child born of consumptive parents than in a child born of healthy parents, but if he is brought up in hygienic life and food, he is just as able to resist the disease as a healthy child. Now, we do know that the consumption germ is absolutely opposed to fresh air and sunshine. It will not grow or thrive in fresh air and sunshine. Of course, the drier the climate the better the air and sunshine is for consumptives, but many people stricken with consumption think they have to go out to Colorado or New Mexico and are not able to go, and so give up and die. This is not right. I believe any consumptive patient can be cured as well right here in Pensacola as almost any other place. It is true the sea coast is not the best place, because there are fogs, but one could go a few miles inland and be free from the fogs. The point of prevention or cure settles on one thing, fresh air and sunshine and the healthy food and plenty of it.
I would advise a consumptive patient to stay in the fresh air all the time; eat, sleep and live in it.'"

The session was concluded with a lecture by Director Rutzahn, accompanied by stereopticon illustrations.
Special note should be taken by the public of the proclamation of Mayor Goodman regarding the tuberculosis exhibition, and everyone should respond gladly and willingly to the call for their own sake as well as for the sake of the city and country.

The 8 O'clock Session.
At the eight o'clock session, the feature of the program was the address by Dr. W. E. Anderson, covering in detail the subject under discussion, tuberculosis. Dr. Anderson spoke for about an hour, taking the subject from start to finish, from the means of contracting the disease and carefully going over the ways of prevention and cure, giving his audience a clear insight into the great mortality resulting every year from this terrible scourge. At this session there was quite a large crowd, which totalled the days attendance to about two hundred more than the day preceding.

Today is negro day at the exhibition and there will probably be a much greater attendance than at last Thursday's.

Late Wednesday evening the secretary of the colored carpenter union called up the office of the exhibition and notified them that the colored carpenters union would attend in a body at the eight o'clock session Thursday night and that they would donate to the campaign fund of the exhibition the sum of five dollars, which will be handed in on their arrival at the hall.

The colored people, in order to inspire enthusiasm among their people to attend the exhibition this last opportunity, have chartered Shellback's Silver Cornet Band, who will cover the town in a special car this evening from six until eight, and will end their music at the exhibition hall in time for the eight o'clock session.

The colored people also have arranged for the following musical program at the exhibition, to be furnished by the Pensacola Normal School:

4 p. m., Two female quartettes.
8 p. m., Two male quartettes.
8 p. m., One chorus.

Turning the Tables.
When E. L. Godkin was editor of the New York Evening Post he was supported by many to lack a sense of humor, but those in his employ who spoke close to him knew better. One morning he sent for his young city editor.

"Last night," said Mr. Godkin, "I saw in the Post an account of the sullusion of a boy. Your news paragraph reported as the motive that the boy was being resisted at home in a promiscuous inclination to marry. Mr. Blank, can you imagine how that father felt when you accused him for what was no doubt done in a sense of loving duty of being the cause of the death of his child?"

The young editor stammered an apology.

"Thank you for your explanation," said Godkin. "But," he went on in a more decided tone, "if anything like that ever happens again I give you fair warning, sir, that I will leave this paper. I will not work for a paper that says things so cruel!"—Success Magazine.

When Britain Fought For an Ear.
Perhaps the most extraordinary example of Britain going to war for "no reason at all" occurred in the reign of George II. One Robert Jenkins, an English merchant-captain, trading from Jamaica, arriving in England in 1738, reported that the sleep had been boarded by the Spanish coast guards and that, though no proof of smuggling had been found, he had been tortured and his ear torn off. All England flew into an uproar. "Jenkins' ear" divided parties and shook Walpole's ministry itself. The house of commons sent for Jenkins, and he was told to bring his ear with him. The incident grew into a crisis, though Walpole did his best to persuade people to keep their heads, but the popular indignation was so great that the next year the government was compelled to declare war against Spain.—Pearson's.

The Parish Top.
Once in England top whipping was practically ordered by law. There was a huge top formerly provided in every village to be whipped in frosty weather so that the peasants might be kept warm by the exercise and out of mischief while they could not work.

Shakespeare in "Twelfth Night" says, "His brains turn like a parish top." Ben Jonson in "New Inn" writes, "He spins like a parish top," and Beaumont and Fletcher have "dances like a town top and reels and hobbles." Evelyn, the diarist, speaking of the uses of willow wood, says that it was ordered that "the great town tops should be made thereof."

MIKE M'DONALD'S WIDOW, WHO FIGURES IN CHICAGO DIVORCE

Chicago, March 3.—A sensational divorce petition just filed in this city is that of Mrs. Myrtle E. Goodrich against Benjamin Briggs Goodrich, in which the wife names Mrs. Dora Mc-Donald, widow of the famous Chicago gambler, Mike McDonald, as a co-respondent. Goodrich was recently brought to this city from Houston, Texas, where he had been arrested. Before his arrest he was a prosperous business man, being vice-president of a large concern. Mrs. McDonald is named in the papers as Dora Barkley, his first wife having been Sam Barkley, who was a well known player twenty years ago.
The woman gained widespread notoriety through her trial and acquittal of the murder of Webster Guerin, an artist, a few years ago.

ARGUMENTS TO BE HEARD.

Montgomery, Ala., March 3.—Argument in the rate cases in which Ala-

Manila, March 3.—The latest develclines to meet the representatives of the union.

DECLINED AMBASSADORSHIP.

Washington, March 3.—Myron T.

MILITARY CHIEFS IN COMMAND AT INAUGURATION

The parade attending the inauguration of William H. Taft will be the most imposing pageant that has ever marked a similar event at the capitol.
Besides the large forces of soldiers of the regular army and sailors from the battleships, there will be many militia organizations in line.
General J. Franklin Bell will be chief
